PRESS RELEASE : 18th January 2010

Old Hall, 1924

New Hall, 2010 (with your help)

The Lands of Loyal Hotel is hosting a black tie Charity Auction and gala dinner on 6th March 2010 to raise money for Eassie Hall. The current hall, which is beyond use and repair, is being replaced in order to continue providing this rural and scattered community with a meeting place where dances, celebrations and all manner of local events can continue to be held. Historically, one of the most important roles the hall has played is as a gymnasium for the local primary School. This much valued School has been in the headlines recently under threat of closure but was saved after a valiant rally of support and its future is greatly underpinned by the building of this essential Community Hub.

With a view to help achieve the last 15% of the funds required for the build, Michelle Wilkinson and Verity Webster are organising a magnificent Black tie Gala dinner and Charity Auction. This fabulous evening is being held at Lands of Loyal Hotel in Alyth, known particularly for its grand central hall, just perfect for dancing.

A welcoming champagne reception will be followed by a three course dinner with wine. The main Auction will follow and dancing in the magnificent hall will bring proceedings to a close. A Silent Auction and luxury tombola will also run throughout the course of the night. The star auctioneer is Andy Jackson of Kirriemuir, from The Apprentice (series 3)

Local businesses have been hugely supportive and contributions for the auction lots have been rolling in from Gleneagles, Charlie Taylor Hairdressing and National Trust for Scotland. If you would like to support this event in any way, please get in touch, tickets are now on sale at £50 per person with 40% going directly to the hall funds and tables are offered in a variety of sizes to suit all parties.
